Written by an unknown author around 1500, 'The Summoning of Everyman' (or simply 'Everyman') is one of the most looked-to examples when talking about morality plays. A 2011 study from NSF International found that about half of coffee makers (we're talking the classic, basket-and-carafe kind here) had yeast and mold growing in their reservoirs. About one in ten were home to coliform bacteria. On average, home coffee reservoirs also had higher germ counts than both bathroom door handles and toilet seats.
